General rules

- Only make v1 torrents, no Hybrid or v2 torrents.
- Since early 2020 the bot uploads movie and TV scene uploads unRARed. You are free to do so as well, but obviously are not obligated to unRAR any scene releases you upload.
- Scene Game and Application releases (as well as Subs from Movies and TV) must be in their original format, do not unRAR these.
- P2P content should be in its original form, but you are allowed to unRAR it
- You must seed your torrents until there are at least 10 copies out there or for at least a week
- You are encouraged to upload screenshots of your TV shows / movie uploads
- You are encouraged to add TAGS to your uploads
- Every torrent must be accompanied by an NFO file. If there is no NFO file you make one with at least the MediaNFO output (be sure to anonymize). This NFO file does not need to be in the file list, but can be copy pasted into the upload form.
- Within 24 hours of uploading a torrent you can delete your own content, after you need to contact a moderator in the #luppers channel. Be sure not to delete content that has been seeded to a lot of users already unless it is absolutely necessary.
- No porn (hard- or softcore) allowed, that includes (japanese/manga) games. Put that stuff on Pussytorrents.
- If you choose to pack your own releases you should use RAR in 'store' mode.
- Creating duplicate torrents of existing releases on the tracer, just to unRAR those are not allowed.

Ads in uploads

- Ads for other sites are never allowed, some content might have links to screenshots etc. which in turn could be seen as ads. If you are in doubt contact me or a fellow uploader to double check.
- An exception will be made for CAMs during that time when there are no better sources available. If there are better sources available and the torrents gets reported with a valid alternative, the CAM torrent will be deleted.
- Even in those exceptions we differentiate between 'no no no' and 'I'll allow it':

► Never okay

► Allowed until better source

Pack rules

- TV Season packs are the only packs we encourage you to upload
- TV Season packs must contain all episodes of a season, no mid-season packs should be uploaded. Anime is excluded from this rule as their seasons tend to differ from regular TV Shows.
- On all other packs the rule of thumb is that single movies/games etc. need to be uploaded as a single torrent first
- 0-day packs are excluded (apps, FLAC, MP3, comics etc.)
- Mixed content is NOT allowed, if you make a pack all content should be either 4K, 1080p or 720p. The only exception is material that is not available in higher resolution. So, for example, you can combine a SD DVDRip season 1 to 3, and then go for 720p or 1080p for all other available seasons. If you're in doubt then get in touch with a moderator.

Additional content rules

- Framestor, FLUX and BeyondHD content is not to be uploaded before their timer runs out. If you don't know how to check then don't upload these releases.
- RARBG content is allowed with the site tag, but any redundant files need to be removed from the torrent (rarbg.txt, rarbg.exe for example)
- BONE and YIFY releases are not allowed.
- No retagged content is allowed, if you are unsure then ask a fellow uploader first.
- Upscaled content must explicitly contain the term upscaled in the name.
- Upscaled content may only be uploaded when improving over existing HD content.
- It is not allowed to ask for donations of any kind, in any form.

Activity rules

- To keep your uploader status I expect you to be active and keep uploading new content, getting uploader status does not mean you can slack off!
- If you haven't uploaded for a few weeks you will get a PM from me, if you do not respond to that you will lose your uploader status.
- If you will be away for an extended period of time (4+ weeks) send me a PM so I know you're not inactive
- There is no minimum upload per week, but I expect at least 10 uploads per month. If your content/sources do not permit these amounts you can PM me and we will see what options there are.

If you have any questions about these rules be sure to contact me.

Naming rules

You should always name your files correctly. Below is an example of how your files can be named. You do not have to follow this exact pattern, but it should be closer to this than 'ep1.mkv' or 'song1.mp3'. Torrents must be named following these standards. Failing either might get your torrent deleted, which would undo your hard work and would be a shame.

For Movies: Name.Year.Resolution.Source.Video Codec.Audio Codec - Release Group
Example: Phantom.Thread.2017.2160p.UHD BluRay.REMUX.HDR.HEVC.DTS-X-EPSILON

For TV: Name.Season and/or episode number.Resolution.Source.Audio Codec.Video Codec-
Release Group
Example: Heartless.S01.1080p.WEB-DL.DD5.1.x264-TrollHD

For audio: Artist name.Album name.Source.Audio Codec-Release Group
Example: Tool.Lateralus.CD.MP3-MARIBOR

So what does that mean?

Name: The name of the movie/tv episode as shown on IMDB or TV Maze.

Year: The year shown on IMDB or TV Maze for release (exceptions are possible).

Resolution: The resolution that is a closest match, so if the resolution is 1800 x 1080p you need to put 1080p as resolution.

Source: Where did this come from? Bluray? WEB-DL?

Video Codec: What was used to encode it? Use mediaNFO if not sure.

Audio Codec: Same goes for audio.

Release Group: Either a release group or P2P, homeriep etc. Can be left out if not applicable.
